All - I talked to Jim Gramann, who is managing the peer review project for NPS (he is currently on leave and stranded in a snow storm in Yellowstone). He has all the materials he needs to get this going, but needs to finish reviewing the materials first. At that point he will be able to complete the peer review methodology. If he can get out of the park soon (all roads are currently closed, however), he expects to be back in the office this Friday, and will give this peer review his top priority.

I will keep you informed as I learn more.

Hi Robert,

I don't know the status. Maybe Bruce or Heather could advise? (My understanding is that Sandy was working with Jim Gramann on it.)

Subject Vogelsong Study

Mike -

Do you know if Sandy completed the description of the Vogelsong peer review methodology before she went away? It's on the action item list to send to the Committee today.
