FYI.

I called Sue about this earlier in the week to clarify some talking points I was writing up for my staff.

I'm not sure if this is new information to you all or not.

amoy state listing - new information

Hi Mary,
I just found out that the American oystercatcher DID receive final approval for an upgrade to Species of Special Concern. The same is true for Wilson's plovers. This will become effective on July 1st. Spread the work and let me know if you have additional questions.
