Subject: Surf fishing the outerbanks

Gentlemen- I have surf fished the outerbanks for over 28 yrs - Cape Point is the ALTAR of surfishing- as it stands now the doors to church have been closed- for mankind to allow this to happen is a sad ,sad ,sad day- the closures and limited access have left a permanent hole in my heart - no matter one's troubles there was always surf fishing the banks to correct one's compass- I always knew this day was coming when I saw the McMansions being built but never wanted to accept it- I have followed all the issues and the bottom line is in my opinion is that it is over and I know I'll never quite be same again knowing it's not there anymore- This was never about wildlife or endangered species but about pure egomania and blatant greed - an institution was killed by mankind- The one constant that was all mine is now gone. Good Luck and Godspeed I wish you all well .
