I'm sorry Ms. Holda, but you are incorrect. You should read the United States Code or ask Mr. Murray about it. He should be honest enough to tell you what the current version of the U.S. Code states and what the correct name is. After you learn the answer, ask him to explain why he doesn't ask for some simple changes - like email subjects and titles on Microsoft word documents.

Read it for yourself:

http://www4.law.cornell.edu/uscode/html/uscode16/usc_sec_16_00000459----000-.html

Note: Congressional changes are maintained and kept updated by the U.S. Code - I know because I write regulations for the U.S. maritime industry.

Mr. Smith,
The park's name is Cape Hatteras National Seashore and recognized as such by Congress since the 1950s.

Ms. Holda,

In all sincerety, you should refer to summary as the Cape Hatteras
National Seashore Recreational Area Resource Mgmt Field Summary for April 22 - 29, 2009.

or as indicated in the subect line:

RE: Cape Hatteras NSRA Resource Mgmt Field Summary for April 22 - 29, 2009

It's really not that hard for the NPS to comply with the intentions of Congress.
