Dear Mike,

I received this email on the local prayer chain. This is very disturbing. Yes, I know it is illegal to feed a gull even the 2 halves of a Cheeto. Yes, I know it's illegal to go over a ramp 5 minutes early in the morning. In both these incidents that have been spread around it could have been an appropriate time for a nearby ranger to educate users of the rules.

There is a great deal of animosity and ill feeling on the island against the NPS. It is escalating rapidly. business is suffering and tempers are short.

With concern,

Barbara Ackley

Lynne-

My name is Kimberely Doerr-Martin and my Dad is Ben Doerr and Rita asked me to send ya a quick email to let ya know about an incident I had on the beach today... I have been coming down here for over 20 years and NEVER had one problem until this year when the guy next to me fishing was cutting bait and a slew of gulls appeared so I literally broke "2" cheez-itz " into and fed them to them and I got a ticket! I have NEVER fed a gull in all of my years here and guess had a criminal mind this time around and did the crime!!

The ironic thing about it is that about 45 mins later the guy next to me got a gull hooked in the rod in the front rack on his truck and just stood there watching it and hearing it scream until we jumped out with scissors to get it loose then he got his butt in gear and unhooked it! Thanks for your time, Kimmi-
