Ted,
The closure intrusions are summarized in the weekly resources management report. There were no "deliberate violations", such as vandalism, and no violation notices were issued. The area was closed due to a combination of new AMOY scrapes near the point that resulted in expand buffers and an increase in the amount of closed shoreline that visitors would need to by-pass below the mean low tide line and the number of closure intrusions was unmanageable.
The time had come to close it to avoid disturbance of nesting bird species.

I hope this information is helpful to your understanding of the situation.

Cyndy,

How many closure violation citations were issued to folks violating the closure while walking to Cape Point that has now resulted in closure of Cape Point to walkers ????????????????????

Cheers Ya'll
