FYI - AJ called. Said that the link for posting comments on regulations.gov is activated (i.e., open to receiving comments) and they are making good progress on screening previous comments for inappropriate remarks. They may be able to get the backlog of previous comments posted on regulations.gov today (or Monday at the latest).

It'll take me just a little while, but I should be able to get them up soon.

Doug,

Would you be available to post on PEPC today the press release and FR Notice to reopen the public comment period? If not we can get someone here to do it.

Thanks,

Mike Murray
