To understand this study we must understand the questions and how they were asked.

Everyone should know that wildlife viewing does not necessarily mean passive entertainment, bird watching, (hunters are classified as wildlife viewers up to and beyond the killing shot.) Anyone quoting this study without reference is making a major mistake.

Note; this study was with reference to economic impacts (read fundraising).

Subject: Follow up Information for the Committee

During one of the break-out sessions at the December committee meeting, the topic came up of a recent study indicating the relative numbers of individuals involved in various recreational pursuits related to wildlife (e.g., hunting, fishing, wildlife viewing, etc.). See attached report titled "The 2006 Economic Benefits of Hunting, Fishing, and Wildlife Watching in North Carolina."

(The report can also be found on the NC WRC website:
<http://www.ncwildlife.org/> under "Downloads," "More")
